

Why Should I internationalize My Courses? How do I Internationalize my Curriculum?

Christine Oakley

Washington State University

coakley@wsu.edu/509 335-8180

Courses

| Things to Think About | Ideas |
|--|--------------|
| Why do I want to globalize my courses? | |
| Have I thought about adding global content to my current courses? Which ones? | |
| Have I thought about adding global content to my current courses? What global experiences or research could I draw from? | |
| Do I want to develop a new course? Is there a curricular need? | |
| Would I include an experiential component? What would that look like? Field tour? Campus friend with an international student Am I familiar with COIL? | |
| Am I familiar with the ASA section on Global and Transnational Sociology? | |

Curriculum

| Things to Think About | Ideas |
|--|--------------|
| Does my department or university's mission support a global learning? | |
| Is there departmental will for curricular change? | |
| Would the department support a global option or track? Who would teach the courses? | |
| What would the learning outcomes be? How would I assess them? | |
| What globally-related courses are currently in my department's curriculum? What courses include some global content? Is there an option for cross-listing? | |
| Would I include an experiential learning requirement? | |
| What resources for global learning are available at my institution? | |

Why Should I internationalize My Courses? How do I Internationalize my Curriculum?

Christine Oakley

Washington State University

coakley@wsu.edu/509 335-8180